I am writing to address an important matter regarding the availability of head coaches for content preview and reviews, as well as the need to provide fresh perspectives throughout the season.

We understand that head coaches have numerous responsibilities and commitments beyond the role with the club. Consequently, we acknowledge that their availability may be limited at times. However, it is important for us to adhere to our schedule of delivering high-quality content to our audience.

To ensure a consistent flow of engaging content and to explore different viewpoints as the season progresses, we kindly request that each club provide us with a secondary contact person. This individual can be either be the team captain or the assistant coach who is available for correspondents to reach out to in cases where direct contact with the head coach is not feasible.

We kindly request that you communicate the details of the designated secondary contact via email by Tuesday 4th July. Please ensure that the designated individual is aware of their role and is comfortable representing the club in the absence of the head coach.

We greatly appreciate your cooperation with this matter.

Kind regards
Steph Carte
